Neuro-Disaster Management/Neuro-Terrorism

CNS Annual Meeting, March 2-4, 2012

Anaheim Marriott Hotel, Anaheim, CA

President's Message

“We live in a moment of history where change is so speeded up that we begin to see the present only when it is already disappearing.” — R. D. Laing

Indeed this past year has been one of whirlwind transformation for the California Neurology Society (CNS), formerly known as the Association of California Neurologists (ACN), as we strive to expand our mission to foster improvements in health care for our patients and through vigorous advocacy ensure a working and political climate that allows California's neurologists to do so.

Our re-organization has created energetic working committees on legislation, membership outreach and workers compensation. We have worked to include the newest generation of neurologists with resident representation on our board and a presence on Facebook.

One of the jewels of our endeavors has been the creation of this novel annual meeting that addresses neurology from the perspective of these tumultuous times where science and technology has led not only to progress for mankind but more immediate hazards and dangers than encountered by previous generations.

Through the indefatigable efforts of CNS Vice President Dr. Robyn Young we have assembled an outstanding panel of experts to address the topic of Neuro-Disaster Management. We will learn not only about the traditional consequences of trauma but problems presented by rarely contemplated infections, radiation and deadly neurotoxins. Hopefully we will never have to treat patients with these malevolently imposed maladies, but we must remain knowledgeable and prepared.

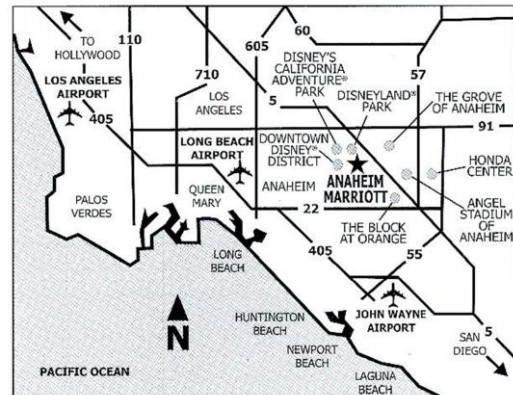

Enjoy your weekend here in Southern California and if you have not done so already please become a contributing participant in the California Neurology Society, the only statewide organization that represents the interests of California's neurologists and their patients. — Steven J. Holtz, MD, CNS President
